

I now live in Melbourne with my wife, Judy. I attended Sunday school in the 1940s, behind and above the Pearlman's shop. I think they sold fruit & vegetables and it was also a milk bar. In the photo taken in the Pearlman's backyard, I am at the back on the extreme left side (wearing glasses). My late parents, Fannie and Charles Lewis, were members of the synagogue for many years, both before and after the move to Florence Street. The above-mentioned photo [Editor: go to Chronology, The 40s] was taken in 1945 or 1946. My wife and I were members for many years and our son, Stephen, had his Barmitzvah there.
